PUBLIC WORKSHOP NOTICE

The Nevada Division of Water Resources (NDWR) has scheduled a workshop to guide recipients of water rights issued pursuant to the ARCO settlement in filing their Proof of Beneficial Use (PBU), which is the final required step to permit certification. NDWR staff will be available at the Walker River Irrigation District office, located at 410 N. Main Street, Yerington, NV 89447, on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 1st and 2nd, 2019, from 9:00 a.m. through 4:30 p.m. to assist in completing the PBU form. Individuals interested in attending should contact NDWR at the numbers given below to schedule a 45-minute time slot. Drop-ins are welcome; however, priority will be given to scheduled appointments. Attendance at this event is not mandatory.

To expedite the process, attendees are advised to bring any relevant documents regarding their water right, well, totalizing meter and records of totalizing meter readings. Permittees also must bring a valid ID, and either cash, check, or money order payable to NDWR to cover the $60.00 statutory filing fee.

The goal of the Division of Water Resources is to conserve, protect, manage and enhance Nevada's valuable water resources in a fair and equitable manner by administering and enforcing Nevada water law. If you have any questions, please contact either Wyatt Fereday at (775) 684-2832 or Sarah Overton-Fichtner (775) 684-2886.
