Mt Diablo Meridian

This is a detailed historical survey map of a 36-section township, likely in California, showing land parcels, water features, and infrastructure. The map is organized into a grid of 36 sections, numbered 1 through 36. Each section is labeled with its number and the total number of acres it contains. The map includes a grid of section numbers and a scale bar at the bottom right. Key features include:

- Section Numbers and Acres: The map shows sections 1 through 36. Each section is labeled with its number and the total number of acres it contains. For example, Section 1 is 160 acres, Section 2 is 640 acres, and Section 3 is 640 acres.
- Water Features: The map shows several creeks and rivers, including "Creek," "Torre Creek," and "Torre River." There are also several reservoirs and springs, such as "Torre Reservoir," "Torre Springs," and "Torre Reservoir." The map also shows a "Dry Channel" and a "Torre Reservoir." The map includes a grid of section numbers and a scale bar at the bottom right.
- Infrastructure: The map shows a network of roads and trails, including "Torre Road," "Torre Trail," and "Torre Road." There are also several buildings and structures, such as "Torre House," "Torre Cabin," and "Torre Cabin." The map includes a grid of section numbers and a scale bar at the bottom right.
- Scale and Orientation: The map includes a scale bar at the bottom right, indicating distances in feet and miles. The map is oriented with North at the top.
