Dear King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

It's important for me that the Great Basin water stays in the Great Basin because of the personal experience that I have of the area. I have spent time in Pioche, Ely and Austin and feel that it is a beautiful area that deserves protection. Las Vegas doesn't need any more real estate development. Clark County should accept that this is the desert after all, and plan accordingly. There are innumerable empty homes in every neighborhood...no one needs to build any more. They are getting too close to Red Rock canyon as it is...it should stop.

I believe the residents of the rural counties have the right to maintain their current lifestyles and should not be bled dry just to make a few developers rich.

We urge you to deny the applications filed by the Southern Nevada Water Authority and support the best interests of all of Nevada.

Sincerely,

Ms. Barbara Tyler
