Dear State Engineer Jason King State Engineer King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

These are trying and very hard times, especially if you are own a fixed income. An increase in water bills could cause some health problems because some people would not be able to pay higher water bills. We can not afford this therefore please find cheaper ways to solve problem.

Sincerely

Charles R. Harris
