Dear King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

While I certainly respect the SNWA's message of conservation, taking water from other areas that also have a limited amount just doesn't seem fair. This project sounds like it will severely damage other areas, and with our current state of economy, it just doesn't make sense.

I think a long-term solution needs to be found, but this isn't it.

I urge you to deny the applications filed by the Southern Nevada Water Authority and support the best interests of all of Nevada.

Sincerely,

Christina Zila
