Dear State Engineer Jason King State Engineer King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

The people in Southern Nevada need to realize that their water consumption must be reduced (no golf course, grass, pools, water parks). You cannot raid the northern part of the state to satisfy the greediness of the southern part of the state. This is not good management. We have already seen what these water graps do with Mono Lake and Los Angeles. Stop this now. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Deborah Banks
