Dear State Engineer Jason King State Engineer King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

Taking water from Northern Nevada, shipping it to the Las Vegas area, will encourage more development in that area. There are too many people there now. That is why there is a water shortage. The desert doesn't support lavish living and over population.

Sincerely,

Jacinta Denton
