Dear State Engineer Jason King State Engineer King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

Everyone needs to learn to be conservative in their use of water, including Las Vegas. If this pipeline is built, what will you do when you run out of other people's water? Have you seriously considered what this will do to the northern part of the state?

Sincerely,

Johann Sprenger
