Dear King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

It seems too foolish to even consider, but of course why learn from the Owens Valley? The project's own environmental impact statement states the pipeline will lower the water table thereby changing the type of vegetation that grows there. That affects the wildlife, and the totality of the experience for humjust notans. We deserve beauty and we deserve wilderness. I have camped in the area with my family and feel Las Vegas' growth is just not worth the destruction this water grab will cause.

I urge you to deny the applications filed by the Southern Nevada Water Authority and support the best interests of all of Nevada.

Sincerely,

Ms. Linda Overbey
