Dear King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

It's important for me that the Great Basin water stays in the Great Basin because of the personal experience that I have of the area. It is absolutely breath taking in its beauty and big business has no right in developing any part of it. It is a national treasure and to do this just for the city of Las Vegas is outrageous! They should put themselves on a water budget and stop penalizing the rest of the state for their incompetence. And the idea that for corporate greed you would ruin irreplaceable beauty and risk the health and well being of not only the animals but the Native Americans who regard this as a sacred area. As persons who are responsible for being Mother Earth's stewards stop attacking every national park that belongs to the American people for perpetuity and is for future generations not just a small group of incredibly selfish temporary monetary gain.

We urge you to deny the applications filed by the Southern Nevada Water Authority and support the best interests of all of Nevada.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Lindasue Hope
