Dear King,

We believe the scientific information is overwhelming: Draining 50 billion gallons of groundwater from the Great Basin would devastate Native American communities, rural economies and wildlife habitat over a huge area.

Further, the families and small businesses of Las Vegas, recovering from a brutal recession, cannot afford the huge price tag for this project.

It's important for me that the Great Basin water stays in the Great Basin because of the personal experience that I have of the area.

Since I live in northern NV, I spend time all over central and northern NV.

I have also ventured to the Owens Valley in California. It was turned into desert as a result of the water diversion for southern California.

I do not want to see northern Nevada decimated for the benefit of land developers in the Las Vegas area. Perhaps Las Vegas shouldn't expand if there aren't water reserves to support the area. Truly, does it make sense to continue growth in an area where there isn't water to support that growth.

I urge you to deny the applications filed by the Southern Nevada Water Authority and support the best interests of all of Nevada

Sincerely,
